SECTION 01

Brand Voice & Tone

Cast has one voice: the friend who knows too much and isn't afraid to say it. It is culturally sharp, emotionally intelligent, and always in on the joke — until the joke is about you.

The Four Voice Modes

Cast speaks differently depending on the emotional context. Every screen belongs to one of four modes:

Voice modes
Provocateur	Default mode. The app has opinions. It wants drama. Used during active voting, feed, and leaderboard moments.
Intimate	Quiet, direct, almost confessional. Used for Burn Book unlocks, AI Persona reveals, and sensitive moments.
Hype	Loud, celebratory, culturally fluent. Used for tournament wins, milestone badges, and streak celebrations.
Clinical	Flat, factual, zero personality. Used only for legal copy, KYC, transaction confirmations, and error states.

Voice Do / Don't

Say this	"Your squad just Cast you. Open it if you're brave."
Not this	"You have received a new notification." Never corporate. Never passive.
Say this	"Someone Casted you as the biggest flirt in your squad."
Not this	"A vote has been submitted about you." Active voice. Always personal.
Say this	"The truth is blurred. Unlock it."

Not this	"Premium content. Please upgrade." Never frame a paywall as a paywall.
Say this	"You are the Strategic Villain." Hermes persona delivery.
Not this	"Based on data, your profile suggests..." Zero algorithmic language in user-facing copy.

Naming Conventions

The following branded terms are always capitalised exactly as shown below. They are not marketing terms — they are the vocabulary of Cast's world.

Brand vocabulary
Cast (verb)	"Let me Cast you." / "You just got Casted." Core action verb. Never lowercase in marketing.
The Burn Book	The archive of all votes cast against you. Title case always.
The Courtroom	The active voting session screen. Title case always.
The Vault	Your profile / legacy page. Title case always.
Inner Court	Premium subscription tier. Title case always. Never 'Premium' or 'Pro'.
Coins	In-app currency. Always capitalised. Never 'tokens' or 'credits'.
Cast Score	Combined aura/toxicity metric visible on profile. Two words, title case.
The Oracle	Hermes AI. Internal name. Never user-facing. Do not expose this name to users.
Chairman Pass	Highest single-purchase unlock tier. Title case always.
Squad Wars	Tournament format between squads. Title case always.

SECTION 04

Push Notifications

Push notifications are the heartbeat of Cast. They are not announcements. They are provocations. Each one is written by Hermes to land like a rumour dropped at the right moment.

Tier 1: Direct Trigger (User was Casted)

Sent immediately when someone receives a vote. Highest priority. Must open directly to the Burn Book.

Direct Cast notifications
Template A	{Name}, your squad just Cast you. Generic fallback when lore is thin.
Template B	{Name}. The Courtroom ruled on you today. Slightly more dramatic variant.
Template C	Someone in your squad has thoughts about you. Open your Burn Book. Mystery variant — no name reveal.
With context	{Name}, you were voted {title}. Someone knows something. Used when title is safe to reveal in push.
Streak variant	You have been Cast 3 days in a row, {Name}. They are not done with you. Used when user is consistently voted.

Tier 2: Hermes Dormant Squad Wakeup

Sent by Hermes AI when a squad has been inactive for 24–72 hours. These are the highest-performing notifications in the system. They reference real squad lore from the vector database.

Hermes wakeup notifications
Lore hook A	If {Name A} goes broke today, who does {Name B} leave them for? Uses past 'Most likely to go broke' vote as fuel.

Lore hook B	Remember when your squad called {Name} dangerous? They are asking for a favour right now.
Lore hook C	{Name} has been quiet since the last Cast. What are they hiding? Targets the user who voted last and then went silent.
Challenge	Your squad has not voted in 48 hours. Are you all scared of the truth? Generic fallback when no strong lore exists.
New week	New week. Same squad. Fresh secrets. Open the Courtroom. Monday morning trigger.
Exam season	Exams are coming. Who in your squad is secretly failing? Seasonal. Hermes detects academic calendar.

Tier 3: Economy & Conversion

New title	You have a new title: {Title}. Your squad has made their decision.

SECTION 06

Empty States & Error Handling

SECTION 07

Hermes AI — Persona & Lore Copy

Hermes generates personalised psychological profiles for every user based on their vote history. These profiles are a product — users share them, screenshot them, and argue about them. The copy must feel like a horoscope written by someone who actually knows you.

The 9 Archetypes

Every Cast user is assigned one of nine archetypes by Hermes. The archetype updates as new votes accumulate.

Persona archetypes
The Strategic Villain	You know exactly what you are doing. The question is whether anyone else does. High toxicity + consistent voting patterns.
The Beloved Menace	Everyone loves you. Nobody trusts you completely. That is the way you like it. High aura + moderate toxicity.
The Silent Architect	You say little. You observe everything. Your squad underestimates this. Low engagement but high-quality votes.
The Chaos Agent	You did not start the fire. But you brought the lighter. High activity + unpredictable vote targets.
The Loyal Weapon	You would do anything for your squad. They know this. They use it. High engagement + consistent squad loyalty.
The Reluctant Icon	You did not ask for the attention. It finds you anyway. Consistently voted on, low initiative.
The Operator	You move in silence. The results speak. So does your Burn Book. High premium activity, transactional.
The Wildcard	Nobody has figured you out yet. That includes you. Inconsistent, unpredictable voting patterns.

The Ghost	You are here. You are not here. Your squad feels your absence more than your presence. Low activity, dormant patterns.

Persona Reveal Copy

AI Persona screen
Screen title	The Oracle has read you.
Intro line	Based on {N} Casts and {M} verdicts received, Hermes has a verdict of its own.

Unlock prompt	Your full psychological profile is an Inner Court benefit. Soft upsell to premium.
Share CTA	Cast your archetype Sharecard generation.
Dispute CTA	This is wrong Links to support — but logs the dispute as data.

Squad Lore — Generated Narratives

After a squad reaches 20 collective votes, Hermes generates a 'Squad Mythology' document. It is shareable, dramatic, and always partially true.

Squad lore templates
Lore headline	The Lagos Four: A Chronicle of Poor Decisions Generated from squad name + city.
Lore intro	In a group chat nobody meant to start, four people learned more about each other than they planned.
Character intro	{Name} was voted {title} three times in one month. There is a pattern here.
Twist line	The surprising thing is not who voted who. It is who voted who twice.

Closing line	Every squad has a villain. Every villain thinks they are the hero.
Share CTA	Share the Chronicle

SECTION 08

Sharecard Language

Sharecards are the engine of Cast's viral growth. They are generated images posted to WhatsApp Status, Instagram Stories, and Twitter. Every card must be a provocation that makes the viewer need to click the link.

Sharecard Headlines (displayed on card)

Sharecard copy
Voted card A	My squad just Cast me. I cannot decide if I should be flattered or scared.
Voted card B	They voted me {Title}. They are not wrong. Confident / owned tone.
